varies All parents in New York have the freedom to homeschool their children.

Parents must provide an annual notification to the state (or school district) of their intent to homeschool. The state requires homeschooling parents to teach specific subjects and also requires some level of assessment, testing, or evaluation of homeschooled students.

N NEW YORK..

Traditional public schools are available for families throughout the state. States that allow families access to their choice of traditional public schools offer what's called "open enrollment."

New York parents should check with their local school district if they wish to participate in open enrollment, since the state allows districts to set their own open enrollment policies.

Charter schools are public schools that are allowed the freedom to innovate while being held accountable for student achievement.

Public charter schools are available for families across New York. These schools can be opened after they are authorized by school districts, the state, or colleges and universities.

New York has several magnet schools throughout arts.
